MAN KNIFED IN GANG ATTACK

POLICE are hunting a gang of youths believed to be responsible for a vicious knife attack that left a man hospitalised with serious injuries.

The 29-year-old victim suffered stab wounds to his back, leg and hand during the assault on the Berecroft estate in Harlow on Monday evening.

According to police, he was set

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk upon while walking along a footpath linking the neighbourhood with Commons Road at about 8.30pm. After the attack he staggered to the Co-op store at Maund's Hatch to raise the alarm.

His injuries were described as "serious" and he has now been discharged from Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Detectives retrieved a knife from the scene and are now looking for a group of seven young men understood to be responsible for the attack, which they believe may be linked to an earlier reported disturbance outside the Co-op at around 5.30pm on the same day.

Local councillor John Strachan told the Star the incident had shocked residents.

"Although there's no doubt we get our fair share of non-violent crimes in this part of Harlow, something this serious really is out of the ordinary and has shocked a lot of people," he said.

"I just hope the police will now make it one of their top priorities to catch whoever is responsible for this stabbing and bring them to justice. It's the only way that local residents will be able to feel safe again."

Any witnesses who can provide independent accounts of the attack or anyone with any information regarding the incident should contact police at Harlow on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Paedophile who sexually abused young girl jailed

ARAN BLACK

A PAEDOPHILE guilty of committing sex offences against a young girl was behind bars this week after being jailed for 10 years.

Aran Black (39), of Gibson Court, Harlow, admitted possessing thousands of indecent images of children and films involving violence and bestiality.

But he denied other charges of sexual assault, causing the victim to watch sexual activity and causing her to engage in sexual activity.

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

After being found guilty of those offences at Chemsford Crown Court on Friday, Black was branded "unscrupulous" and "a clear and dangerous liar" by judge Anthony Goldstaub.

Caroline Gardiner, prosecuting, told the court Black first came to the attention of police after they were contacted by a woman who had talked to him on an internet chatline.

The woman told police she was worried about his paedophilic comments, claiming he had asked her to imagine they were naked on the bed surrounded by cots full of babies. He had then gone on to make sexual references.

Miss Gardiner said the woman was concerned about the content of the messages he sent and made a recording.

She had obtained Black's telephone numbers and his address on the pretext she was going to write to him but then went to the authorities.

Miss Gardiner said when Black was originally visited by police he accepted he had been in possession of 40 indecent images and had received a police caution.

However, turning to the offences for which Black was subsequently convicted, she told the court: "On August 12, 2009 the mother of the young girl contacted the Child Abuse Investigating Unit, telling them she had seen an image of her daughter which exposed her genital area.

"On December 31, 2010 the girl came forward and provided a full statement to police. She said he [Black] told her to take a photo of herself without any clothes on and she would get a present, that he would take her to see Santa."

Craig Rush, representing Black, said in mitigation there was evidence that the defendant was "quite troubled psychologically" and was unable to face the full impact of what he had done.

Mr Rush argued the offences were not at the level which would attract a higher sentence.

But the judge disagreed, telling Black: "The jury has convicted you on evidence that was overwhelming on a number of very serious offences.

"It's been a disturbing trial; you have plainly abused the girl and in this court called her a liar."

Speaking outside the court after Black was sentenced, the officer in charge of the case Danielle Markoutsis said: "This was a sensitive investigation involving a young girl who was taken advantage of and was abused.

"The victim was very brave in speaking out against her abuser and we would urge anyone who is being subjected to any form of abuse to come forward."

In 2008 Black, who ran a computer consultancy business from his home, unsuccessfully stood for election to Harlow Council as a Liberal Democrat candidate in the Great Parndon ward.

Colleagues say farewell to hospital trio

STAFF in the maternity unit at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital have bid an emotional farewell to three of their longest-serving colleagues at a special retirement party.

More than 90 members of staff turned out to say goodbye to midwives Pat Coreia and Alfreda Paszkiewicz and maternity care assistant Claire Gleeson, who have notched up an impressive 100 years of service between them.

Senior managers praised the trio's outstanding contributions to the unit as well as their dedication, commitment and loyalty before presenting them with gifts donated by staff and local businesses.

Party organiser Naghmeh Teymourian-Yates, a clinical specialist midwife at PAH, said: "I'm not surprised at the tremendous turnout we had as the three retirees were so popular and respected by all the staff.

"They will be sorely missed by everyone here and we wish them the best of luck for the future."

Police rise will push up town's council tax bills

COUNCIL tax bills in Harlow will rise by an average of just over £4 this year after Essex Police increased its share.

The county force is seeking an extra 3.47 per cent for 2012/13, meaning the annual charge for a Band C property will go up by £4.08 to £1,370.16.

All other authorities – Harlow Council, Essex County Council and Essex Fire & Rescue Service – have fixed their demands at current levels.

Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson said the authority had worked hard to freeze its share of the bill for the third year running.

"By saving £1.8m through careful financial management and the use of a one-off Government grant, I'm glad we have been able to freeze our share of council tax which is good news for hard pressed residents, he said.

"Although Harlow Council collects council tax, we only receive a small proportion of the total amount. Out of every £100 collected in Harlow only £16 goes towards services provided by this council.

"This means for a Band C property the weekly cost for Harlow Council services is just £4.30, which pays for services such as waste and recycling collections, street cleaning, parks and open spaces, community safety, environmental health, planning and licensing."

Information on council tax bandings for 2012/13 and the benefits available to those struggling to pay their bill will be sent to households this month.

Kenny keen to fulfil marathon ambition

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A BUS engineer is preparing to take part in his first marathon to help provide disabled children with the opportunity to participate in sport.

Kenny Smith (29), of Taylifers, Harlow, is in training for this year's London Marathon with the aim of raising more than £2,000 for national charity Get Kids Going!

Dad-of-two Kenny said he was keen to raise money for the organisation, which provides disabled children with specially adapted sports equipment, because he knows from personal experience how important sport is for young people.

"When I was really young I wasn't sporty at all," he said. "I found primary school quite tough and it wasn't until I got to secondary and a particular PE teacher introduced me to the world of sport that things got so much better.

"I made lots of friends, got fit and was a lot more confident. I really did change my life and that is why I think charities like Get Kids Going! are so important because they give everyone the opportunity to play sport and enjoy the benefits.

"I think it is important to remember that whereas most people can just slip on a pair of trainers and head out when it comes to playing sport, people with disabilities are often reliant on having things like a £4,000 wheelchair and some £200 gloves.

"Get Kids Going! help to provide that vital equipment that enable disabled young people to participate in activities we often take for granted."

According to Kenny, completing a marathon is a personal goal he has been hoping to achieve for a number of years.

"I decided a few years ago that I really wanted to do a marathon before my 30th birthday but for various reasons I haven't been able to do it yet.

"I turn 30 in May so this really is my last chance to fulfil my ambition."

Despite not being a regular runner, he said he is confident about both his upcoming challenge and achieving his fundraising target.

"I am putting in the training where I can and building up the miles, so hopefully I will be alright on the day," he said. "I have also already put on a few fundraising events and have many more to come.

"It will be tough but I am feeling good about it."

To sponsor Kenny, visit his fundraising webpage at www.uk.virgin.moneygiving.com/kennysmith2.

Youngsters work as a team to build school's sensory garden

A GROUP of determined youngsters have raised enough funds to help spruce up the grounds of a local primary school.

As part of a Prince's Trust course, the 15 members of Team 45, pictured above, ran a series of fundraisers to buy the tools they needed to build a new sensory garden for Longwood Primary School in Parigdon Road.

As well as a 'come to school in your pyjamas' event, the group's biggest fundraiser was a fun day held at the school which attracted more than 150 people.

They also approached local companies for donations of equipment, receiving various items ranging from paint to building materials.

Team member Jenna McGeagh said the 12-week programme - which aims to give young unemployed people new skills, knowledge and motivation - had been a rewarding and enjoyable experience.

"It really is a good course and I am really pleased I signed up to do it," she said.

"As well as being a lot of fun we have really developed a lot of skills. The organisation and teamwork needed to pull off the fundraising events were really important, and then of course we all mucked in together to build the sensory garden.

"As part of the course you also get to go on various trips to perform residential projects and develop teambuilding. We have now all got first aid and food hygiene certificates, so it really does give you a rounded skill base."

She added: "I would definitely recommend it to other young people out there."

Join the legends at boxing night

ORGANISERS of a fundraising boxing event are pulling no punches in their efforts to create more sporting opportunities for disabled children.

The President's Sporting Club and Essex Disabled Sports Foundation have arranged the Night of the Legends of Boxing to raise money for their work providing sports equipment, coaching and outings for youngsters with special needs.

The evening takes place at the Manor of Groves Hotel in High Wycombe on Monday and will feature boxers from Harlow and Bishop's Stortford amateur clubs as well as fighters from top London clubs including Repton.

Several celebrity guests will be attending including PSC president Frank Bruno, Dave Boy Green, Colin McMillan, and Charlie Magri.

Admission is ticket-only which cost £50 each and includes a three-course meal. A small number are still available and can be purchased by calling Mike Jackson by tomorrow (Friday) on (01279) 651355.

Mad hair day is a charity fundraiser

THE regional branch of a national charity is urging Harlow residents to ignore their usual grooming regimes for a day and instead take part in a Mad March Hair fundraiser.

The south-east team of Diabetes UK, which cares for and campaigns on behalf of people affected by the condition, is also encouraging schools and local businesses to support their work by holding a wacky hair day.

"Mad March Hair is a great way to get involved in raising money and awareness of diabetes which affects 29,000 children and young people in the UK," explained regional fundraising manager Jenny Green.

"Each person pays £1 and goes to work or school for the day wearing a wig or with a wacky hairstyle. You can choose which day you want to hold the Mad March Hair day, it just has to be in March."

For more information or to take part, call (01372) 720148 or email fundraising.southeast@diabetes.org.uk.

St Clare's lottery

THE winner of the £1,000 prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, February 24 is ticket holder 733053, who lives in Harlow.

The second prize of £100 goes to the holder of ticket number 136992, who also lives in Harlow.

Still time to sign up for skydive

FUNDRAISERS at St Clare Hospice have been overwhelmed by the number of people volunteering to take part in a sponsored skydive.

Since the Star featured an appeal by the hospice a few weeks ago for thrillseekers willing to throw themselves from a plane it has received more than 60 enquiries.

Already 21 people have signed up for the fundraiser taking place on April 14 and more are in the process of filling out their forms.

Events fundraiser Tracy Stratford said the response had been incredible. "I have been inundated with enquiries since the article went into the Star and wanted to say a huge thank you to everyone," she said.

"It will generate a lot of income for the work we do which is just brilliant."

For more information about taking part in the skydive, call Tracy on (01279) 773750.

Opponents of NHS reforms to hold town centre demo

NURSES will join Labour councillors and trade unionists at a town centre protest on Saturday against the Government's NHS reforms.

Organised by the local Labour Party with support from Unite and Harlow Trades Council members, the rally will call on ministers to drop the Health and Social Care Bill.

The proposals would see existing commissioning bodies including primary care trusts and strategic health authorities scrapped in favour of GP-led consortia. Opponents claim it would cost West Essex PCT – the trust responsible for the majority of healthcare provision across Harlow – around £17m to implement.

Labour councillor and registered nurse Tony Durcan said the sweeping changes would destroy the NHS.

“At a time when local health services are under pressure, they are being forced to spend millions of pounds locally and billions nationally on a top-down reorganisation that nurses don't want, doctors don't want, and patients don't want,” he said. “This rally is an opportunity for the people of Harlow to stand up and show that they don't want this reckless reorganisation either.”

The protest is scheduled to begin at 11am in Broad Walk.

Sale of scrap cars benefits PAH patients

A CHARITY set up by the Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust is test-driving a new fundraising initiative after teaming up with an organisation specialising in turning scrap cars into cash.

The PAH Charitable Fund is one of the first in the country to join forces with not-for-profit social enterprise Giveacar, which collects unwanted and unused cars to sell for charity. Giveacar, which was launched in January 2010, collect cars nationwide free-of-charge regardless of their condition to sell via online auctions or to dispose of at an authorised facility.

The aim is to discourage owners from dumping their unwanted vehicles while at the same time raising money for good causes. PAH fundraising manager Gaynor Cross added: “This partnership will raise funds for the hospital to improve services for patients.”

Residents' fury as council digs up road shrubs

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsexnews.co.uk

FURIOUS residents have accused Harlow Council of vandalising hedges and shrubs in their neighbourhood.

According to householders living at Church Langley, shrubs planted near road junctions across the area were dug up and removed by workmen from council contractor Kier Harlow last week without any warning.

The authority said the work has been carried out to improve visibility for drivers, but infuriated residents claim they were not properly consulted and said the removal of foliage presented a greater safety risk for pedestrians.

“The perimeter hedge functioned as a barrier to prevent young children running into the road on a bend where cars often travel too fast,” said Edward Vine, of Fenton Grange.

“It also was aesthetically pleasing, provided refuge and nesting site for birds and screened the road from the green.”

Ridgeway resident David Martin said he was told by workers digging up the shrubbery that it was being removed for safety reasons.

“When I noticed the workmen from Harlow Council ripping out the bushes throughout Church Langley I decided to ask them what their reason was,” he told the Star. “They told me it was for safety reasons but I fail to see any safety issues and I work as a police traffic sergeant for a living.

SAFETY MEASURES: Workmen in Church Langley Way

“I think it is far more likely to be because they can't be bothered to come and maintain them anymore.”

Although the council consulted residents over the project at a neighbourhood forum meeting in January, Mr Martin said the authority had not done enough to publicise its plans.

“As the ones who have to look at it, it would have been nice to be consulted properly,” he said. “It looks absolutely awful and it's quite ridiculous if they did it to save money.”

“I am pretty sure the cost of having someone come down to trim the hedges a couple of times a year is nothing compared to the amount spent hiring diggers and the staff for the amount time it has taken to remove all the foliage.”

But Tony Hall, the council's portfolio holder for environment, insisted the work would improve safety at road junctions across the estate.

“We are removing a number of shrubs and hedges following concerns raised by residents about safety at road junctions, he said.

“The areas will become grass which will help improve visibility for both pedestrians and road users and address other residents' complaints about litter that collects in the bushes.”

Chance to learn more about West Sumners housing plan

TWO consultation events on plans to build up to 1,200 new homes on fields and woodland west of Harlow take place this week.

Outline proposals for the West Sumners project will be on display at Sumners Leisure Centre from 6pm-9.30pm tomorrow (Friday) and from 10am-6pm on Saturday, giving residents the chance to find out more about the proposed development and voice any concerns they have.

Sarah Conlan of developers Crest Nicholson said: “We want people from Broadley Common and Sumners to look at the proposals and options before making up their minds. Their comments and ideas will be taken into account.”

Robbery on cycle track

A WOMAN was mugged by two men as she walked along the cycle track near Willowfield, Harlow.

She was approached from behind by the pair who pulled her hood over her head before stealing her purse and two phones.

The robbery took place at about 4.30pm on Sunday, February 19.

Express a view on train service

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

NEW train operator Greater Anglia has pledged to take on board passengers' suggestions as it starts work on improving the service.

The firm, an offshoot of Dutch transport giant Abellio, has already signalled its intention to improve customer safety by doubling the number of security staff across the network since it took over the franchise from National Express East Anglia in January this year.

And at a meeting with Harlow MP Robert Halfon, bosses told him they were prepared to listen to commuters' views on other potential improvements – which could include faster trains, more frequent London-bound services and station enhancements.

Mr Halfon described the discussions as productive. "I raised a number of concerns and issues and strongly urged the company to safeguard services in the area," he said.

"They assured me that under their management, train services will be 100 per cent protected from cuts, which will be a welcome relief for the many commuters who use local trains.

"But we must do better. At rush-hour from Harlow it can be standing room only, with too many passengers crammed into too few carriages."

Mr Halfon added that he had agreed to collate suggestions from passengers on how the service could be best improved before passing on his findings to the firm.

"Abellio has agreed to genuinely listen if I can collect the views of Star readers," he added. "So I want people to write to me and tell me how they would like the train service to change, whether they want to see extra carriages at rush hour or would prefer money to be ploughed into station improvements and extra security staff."

A Greater Anglia spokesman said the firm was committed to delivering improvements for its passengers.

"We are very keen to work closely with our community partners, regional stakeholders and MPs including Robert Halfon to deliver improvements for rail passengers across our network."

To make a suggestion on how the rail service could be improved, send an email to Mr Halfon at halfon4harlow@roberthalfon.com.

Couple started married life on a bicycle made for two

A COUPLE who started their married life in tandem will today (Thursday) celebrate 60 years of marriage.

Des (83) and Alma (80) Battcher, of Black Lion Court, Harlow, first set eyes on each other in 1947 at a dance hall in Hammersmith. They dated for two years before getting engaged on Alma's 18th birthday.

They tied the knot at St Etheldreda Church in Fulham on March 1, 1952, and lived with Alma's mother in south-west London. And soon after they were married they made first big joint purchase – a tandem bicycle.

"We used to go everywhere on that bike," said Alma. "We'd cycle together all along the Thames on it.

"Eventually we upgraded to a motorbike, then a bubble car and eventually a normal car, but it took some time!"

The couple moved to Harlow in 1955 when Johnson Matthey, the company for which Des was working, moved offices. They went on to have two children and are now the proud grandparents to three.

Alma said the secret of their happy marriage had been understanding the importance of give and take.

"No-one is ever going to have a completely smooth ride in life but as long as you are able to have a laugh and a cry together you will be ok," she said.

Put the leap year's extra day to good use by joining the fight against cancer

HARLOW women are being urged to leap into action for the fight against cancer by using their 'extra' day to sign up for this year's Cancer Research Race for Life.

With around 80 people being diagnosed with cancer in the east of England every day, organisers of the Harlow event want as many women as possible to make their Leap Day count by using it to secure a place in this year's fundraiser.

Event manager Lucy Hynes explained: "February 29 is an extra day in the calendar so we are urging mums, daughters, sisters, grandmas and friends to put the extra time to good use by pledging to take part in a fun and truly worthwhile event.

"We also want to enlist the support of men to help with fundraising, promoting the event and volunteering on the big day.

"The battle against cancer never stops so we need as many recruits as possible to help us be able to save many more lives."

The non-competitive race, which is again being supported by the Star, takes place in Harlow Town Park on Sunday, May 20.

The target is to recruit more than 2,800 women with the aim of raising £190,000 towards the charity's life-saving research.

All women and girls – regardless of age, size and ability – can walk, jog or run either a 5k or 10k route. The cost to enter is £14.99 for adults and £10 for under 16s.

If you are unable to make the Harlow race on May 20 but still want to take part, the Epping race at North Weald Airfield is being held on the evening of Wednesday, July 11.

For more details or to sign up for either (or both) races, visit the website at www.raceforlife.org or call 0871 641 1111.

Hunt for DIY store conman

POLICE have released this CCTV image of a man wanted in connection with a series of frauds carried out at DIY stores across the region, including one in Harlow.

The suspect is believed to have targeted Wickes stores, taking items from display and then asking for a refund after claiming to have lost the receipt.

The investigation is being led by Sussex police who said the total value of the stolen goods is about £9,000.

A spokesman said: "He enters the shops and takes an item from the shelves, generally kitchen items.

"He then takes them to the till and claims to have previously bought the product but no longer has the receipt. He is given a refund or credit note."

The man is described as white, about 5ft 9in tall and in his late 40s. He has several teeth missing, and has been seen wearing a green flat cap, grey scarf, green duffle-style coat and blue jeans.

Anyone with information about his identity should call Sussex Police on 101 quoting serial 713 of 13/1.

Smuggling gang had huge haul of illegal cigarettes

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW man has been jailed for two years for his part in an audacious bid to smuggle 20 million cigarettes into the UK by describing them as toys on shipping documents.

Matthew Neale (43), of Wedgewood Drive, was found guilty of conspiracy to evade excise duty and on Friday was jailed following a two-week trial at Ipswich Crown Court.

The court heard Neale was of a gang of seven men involved in the smuggling operation. He was arrested after being caught helping to unload more than 10 million cigarettes at a warehouse in Uppminster.

The goods had been brought into the UK from Dubai through the port of Felixstowe inside two large freight containers which were shipped via Hong Kong.

The documents described the contents of the containers as 1,020 cartons of toys but each was in fact crammed full with more than 10 million cigarettes.

The containers aroused the suspicion of customs officers and the Serious Organised Crime Agency, who monitored their shipment into Felixstowe.

The court was told the total duty avoided by the gang's attempted scam was about £3.3m.

The other six members of the gang were also jailed for their involvement in the plot.

Paul Barton, assistant director of criminal investigation for HM Revenue and Customs, said tobacco smuggling costs the country around £2bn in lost revenue every year.

Speaking after all seven were sentenced, he said: "If these criminals had not been stopped they would have flooded local markets with not only the 20 million illicit cigarettes we seized but would have gone on to smuggle in many more.

"HMRC is determined to eradicate this form of criminality and raise awareness of the devastating effect on our communities, including legitimate retailers having to compete with black market goods."

He added: "We are urging the public to be vigilant. Cheap tobacco products can often seem like an attractive offer to people lured into purchasing them at what seem like bargain prices.

"However, the truth is these sales are unlicensed and unregulated and those involved are not concerned if they are selling to children and underage young people."

That's magic! Andy wins title of children's entertainer of the year

A HARLOW magician proved he has plenty of tricks up his sleeve after winning the title of UK Children's Entertainer of the Year.

Andy Clockwise, of Spring Hills, beat off competition from magicians all over the world to win the competition at Blackpool Opera House.

Performing to an audience of more than 1,000 people, he entertained with a winning combination of magic, comedy and ventriloquism to be voted the favourite act.

Despite having a few competition wins to his name now, Andy - pictured above with comedian Ken Dodd who is life president of the Blackpool Magicians' Club - said it was his biggest achievement by far.

"It was a big surprise to win overall," he said. "I was up against some really big names in the children's entertainment world so I am absolutely thrilled."

A full-time magician whose work ranges from children's birthday parties to large corporate events, Andy is now preparing to compete in the Magic Circle's 'Close-Up Magic' competition in a few weeks.

"I'm not sure what the future will hold so I'm just going with the flow right now," he added. "As far as I'm concerned I have the best job in the world already so anything else is a bonus."

COUNCIL MATTERS

By Cllr Andrew Johnson
Leader, Harlow Council

Taking bold steps to save your cash

NEXT month council tax bills will be dropping through the letterboxes of every home in Harlow. There will be a very slight increase – a typical band C property in Harlow will see its bill rise by £4.08 a year.

As you may know, Harlow collects a small portion of your council tax bill (16 per cent). The majority goes to Essex County Council with the rest going to the county's police and fire services. The overall increase in your bill has come about because the police increased their charge.

Harlow Council made savings to ensure that it did not need to increase its portion of the council tax by cutting office costs and transferring services like Pets' Corner, the Museum of Harlow and Parndon Wood Nature Reserve to new providers.

I know how hard-pressed household budgets are in Harlow and for that reason I thought it was unacceptable that the council I lead should ask for any more of your money. Councils can find savings and we have taken bold steps to do that.

The good news is that the future is looking much brighter for those services we all grew up with in Harlow. On its own, the council could not afford to keep them but by working with local organisations we have together found a way to keep them running.

The council's other mission is to bring jobs to Harlow, and you may have read in last week's Star that we have applied for a £3.5m grant to upgrade roads and the A414 around the town's enterprise zone. Nothing is definite but I believe we've got a really strong case, so fingers crossed for a positive decision next month.

If you notice a large gap in the window of the Civic Centre this weekend, don't be alarmed. The famous Henry Moore sculpture Harlow Family Group is on loan to the Victoria and Albert Museum in London.

This world-famous museum is holding an exhibition about modern British design which features Harlow as a cutting edge new town. So there it is, Harlow is now officially a design classic!

This is the council leader's last column in the Star until after the local elections on May 3

Drivers face £10 fee for disability badge

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

DRIVERS applying for disabled parking badges will soon be charged £10 under new plans approved by Essex County Council.

The new fee will come into force on April 1 and comes on the back of a Government-sanctioned revamp of the Blue Badge scheme designed to improve security and cut down on fraud.

The shake-up will see existing handwritten badges scrapped in favour of electronically-printed cards with enhanced security features – including photographic ID and holograms – to deter non-eligible drivers from abusing the system.

The tamper-proof permits remain valid for three years but will cost more to produce. As a result, the county council has been given permission to pass on part of the extra expense to people applying for a badge.

The authority consulted on the proposals with the public before setting the £10 fee, and cabinet member for adults, health and community wellbeing Ann Naylor said the results showed people were prepared to pay up.

"I believe that this will benefit those who rely on the Blue Badge system," she said. "The consultation with residents shows that people are willing to pay a charge for a system that is fairer and reduces the risk of fraud."

But Tony Durcan, Labour county councillor for Harlow West, accused the Conservative-run administration of "squeeze-ing" cash out of vulnerable and disabled residents.

"Essex County Council is now attempting to get blood out of a stone," he said. "There is simply no need for this cost to the disabled."

"The slash-and-burn of all service provision is now starting to be felt by the local community and this is an example of how deep they will go."

For more information on the changes to the Blue Badge scheme, call 0845 603 7630 or log on to the council's website at www.essex.gov.uk/bluebadges.

Payback time as lawbreakers make amends for their crimes

OFFENDERS sentenced to community service as a punishment for their crimes completed more than £1.6m worth of unpaid work across Essex last year.

According to the county's probation service a total of 426 charities, churches, local councils and individuals benefited from Community Payback projects.

Work carried out in Harlow last year included the renovation of the town's six paddling pools and the redecoration of Moot House Social Club at The Stow.

The scheme, which has a 78 per cent completion rate and is run in partnership with a number of agencies, aims to organise projects that not only punish wrongdoers but are also hard work, visible to the public and beneficial to the community.

Director Pete Mangan said: "The scheme has saved deserving causes a lot of money."

"While this is predominantly a punishment for crimes committed, we also take a long-term view that the more people in work, the fewer crimes will take place in future. So we ensure that we, and our partners who work alongside us in supervising the work groups, are teaching skills as well as ensuring that the hours are done."

Mr Mangan added: "The scope of our work is wide. Gardening, cleaning, building, conservation, painting and decorating, regeneration work, litter-picking, graffiti removal and building community centre flats are some of the schemes we've been involved with this year."

Police patrols stepped up after men approach girls

POLICE patrols in two areas of Harlow have been stepped up after reports of men approaching young girls.

The first incident happened in The Stow at 6.45pm on Thursday when two girls became suspicious about the actions of two men, one in a car and the other driving a white van.

According to police, the girls took action to safeguard themselves and came to no physical harm.

Two days later an 11-year-old girl and her friend were walking through Westbury Rise in Church Langley when a white van pulled up alongside them.

The youngsters said two men inside claimed to be police officers and told them to get in the back of the van. They said when they refused and ran off, one of the men jumped out of the van and chased them. Again, neither girl was harmed.

Police this week confirmed they were investigating both incidents to ascertain whether any offence had been committed. In the meantime, patrols have been increased in both areas.

BUSY BEES Children leapt into action to raise money for a charity providing once-in-a-lifetime sporting opportunities for young people. Tots at the nursery in The Greenway on Harlow Business Park took part in a sponsored leapfrog session to celebrate the leap year and at the same time raise money for the Dame Kelly Holmes Legacy Trust. Nursery manager Louise Christie said: "To coincide with the Olympics, Busy Bees nurseries have nominated the DKH Legacy Trust as their charity this year.

"This is the first of many sport-themed fundraisers we will be doing and the children have all been extremely excited. "It is good fun for a good cause and also helps the kids to learn about the Olympics and about the importance of exercise and keeping fit."

HARLOWBURY PRIMARY Business leaders of tomorrow developed, created and marketed their own products to sell as part of the school's enterprise week.

From packaged gingerbread men to fancy soaps and jewellery boxes, each class voted for the product they wanted to create before working together on their own manufacturing line. They then set up their own stalls at the end of the week to sell their goods to mums and dads, with all profits being divided between the classes to buy a special treat. Deputy head Sarah Roffy said the children had all done a fantastic job. "It is the first time we have had a themed week and it has gone so well that we now hope to do one every term," she said.

"The children have really enjoyed working together on their products and did a really good job with them. It has also been a good eye opener for them into the business world."

We'll be singing all the way to the 02

ST ALBANS PRIMARY

Pupils will be pitching in to put on an unforgettable performance at the 02 arena as members of the largest children's choir in the world. Joining around 8,000 other schoolchildren for the Young Voice event next Thursday, the Year 6 pupils will be expected to perform 20 songs ranging from classical numbers to pop tunes.

Headteacher Anne-Marie McCann said they had been practising since September for their moment in the spotlight.

"They have all been working very hard and as ever we are extremely proud of them," she said. "I think we are all excited to get on and do it now.

"They performed at the Royal Albert Hall before but this is the first time they have sung at the 02 so it will be a fantastic experience for everyone. I know they will all perform beautifully."

Estate plan won't help the homeless

SIR, I am writing in response to Clare Harrison (Letters, February 23) in which she stated that we shouldn't be opposing the new development of West Summers as she and many other are on council house waiting lists and this new development would solve the problem.

Please understand that we fully appreciate the situation many people face with the need for a council house. But do not be misled into thinking that this development will have social housing. The vast majority of houses will be for private sale, just like they were in Church Langley.

Building this estate will not benefit the homeless, it will only be full of people from outside of the town relocating here as house prices are cheaper than north London.

Whilst leafleting the Summers estate we've seen many vacant council houses which could be let to those on the waiting lists. The answer to the problem is not building another big private development.

Please be assured that we are not rich; many of us live in council houses. The reason we have launched this campaign is simply to give the people of Summers a collective voice to make our concerns known to the developers, which is not a bad thing.

Mark Rowe (stopwestsummers.com)
address supplied - Editor

More maintenance and repairs, not less

SIR, I attended the same meeting as Steven Harknett's about allocating council housing (Letters, February 16) ... or at least I think I did.

It was a pity he did not attend full council when the rents were set; he would have learned about doubling investment in council homes. There will be more repairs and maintenance and not less, as he claims.

But the meeting he attended was not about repairs, only allocation policy. At full council he would also have heard about improving services through tenant engagement.

Very shortly he will be receiving the council's annual report to tenants and leaseholders, written by the tenants. This administration is already embracing and promoting tenant engagement, unlike the previous Labour council that destroyed tenant advisory groups. Some people attending the meeting accused the council of having decided its policies already. The meeting was the start of the consultation process to explain the options that might be available.

It would appear that some people weren't listening; they'd already made up their minds.

Jane Steer
Orchard Croft, Harlow

Labour's alternative is to listen to people

SIR, The attempt by Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson to blame his own party's failures on Labour reminds me of the film Groundhog Day (Letters, February 16).

Like most residents in Harlow, I am getting bored every time this Tory-led council fail and continue to run this town down. It's not their fault, it's Labour's fault or its Gordon Brown's fault.

Can I remind Cllr Johnson that in the small matter of four years his Tory party has run Harlow Council, they alone have destroyed most things that in his words "the once great Labour Party" built for Harlow. And it is his Tory Party that failed miserably to consult with residents over the selling off of the museum, Pets' Corner, Parndon Wood Nature Reserve and the bandstand.

Not only did the Tories not want to listen to residents' concerns, they failed to keep elected members of the Labour group informed even though we were constantly asking for information. The first time we saw the papers on all these services was a week before the budget meeting, yet Cllr Johnson sees fit to say that Labour had no alternative. An alternative at a week's notice on a vast and very important matter was not possible.

But we do have an alternative. If elected we will listen to residents, we will keep all councillors informed, we will genuinely care and we will put services before civic dinners.

So instead of blaming Gordon Brown for an economic crisis that was started in America by American banks they should concentrate on the crisis they have left Harlow in with all their short-term fixes.

Cllr Johnson ends his letter by stating that residents can trust his Conservative Party and I suppose he is right. Residents can trust Harlow Conservatives not to listen and not to put them first.

Cllr Mark Wilkinson, Labour group leader
Harlow Council, Civic Centre, Harlow

Budget meeting was another waste of time

SIR, Another year and another budget meeting not worth going to ... and it seems that Labour councillors agree.

I went to a council meeting to hear the debate about the budget last year. The Conservatives put forward a budget with no substantial response from the opposition. This year I found out that the Labour Party would not put forward an alternative budget again and, in fact, three Labour councillors didn't even bother to turn up.

Without the Labour Party Harlow wouldn't be the place it is. They worked hard to build the town, they have good people and good ideas so why are they hiding their heads in the sand?

The alternative budget may not get passed but at least it shows the party is interested (turning up would be a good start). The Liberal Democrats are all but gone and Labour seem like they don't care, so who else is there?

I hear a lot about the socialists and Harlow's trade union group, but they probably couldn't field a candidate if they wanted to. Who is left? The Conservatives, who have put out a budget and a plan or Labour, who might not turn up?

Sam Stoppelcamp
Red Lion Crescent, Harlow

Seek help if you are worried about rent

SIR, Your report that council tenants face seven per cent rents hike may be concerning many tenants whose household budgets are already squeezed.

Paying the rent is the most important bill; it ensures you keep a roof over your head and that of your family. It is vitally important that if you are struggling to pay your rent you let the council know as soon as possible.

If you are worried over meeting rent payments you should approach the council's benefits section to see if you qualify for housing or any other benefit. The Citizen's Advice Bureau in West Gate and Harlow Advice Centre will also be able to offer help.

Housing benefit levels will be adjusted to match the increase in rents and pensioners will be receiving the highest-ever increase in April, but there will be many households just on the margin of receiving benefit who should seek more information.

Cllr Simon Carter, Portfolio holder for resources
Harlow Council, Civic Centre, Harlow

Increase is lower than the national average

SIR, It is interesting that the only Labour councillor who spoke about the rent increase was a former Liberal Democrat who did not attend the council meeting. All of the Labour councillors failed to say a single word about tenants or rents, yet they claim to be the party supporting the disadvantaged.

In his rush to join the Labour Party I wonder if Cllr John Strachan had forgotten that it was the last Labour government that introduced the formula for increasing rents? It was designed to bring council rents in line with those of housing associations, so-called 'convergence'. Were his colleagues too embarrassed to be associated with their own policy?

Just as the Conservatives have worked to freeze council tax, so we have worked to keep the increase as low as possible. Our average rise is 7.3 per cent but the national average is 7.8 per cent which means some councils – like Labour-controlled Rotherham – have put theirs up by 10 per cent.

As I said at the council meeting, all of the rent paid by our tenants will now be spent on their homes instead of a third going back to the government. Another welcome Conservative policy.

Cllr Clive Souter (Conservative)
Longbanks, Harlow

So much for UK unity

SIR, So David Cameron wants a unified UK. Very shortly Scottish, Welsh and Northern Ireland MPs will vote to impose on England only the unwanted part-privatisation of our health services.

Meanwhile, they will retain free prescriptions, free university places etc and all at our expense!

If we are to have a unified UK then let's start by having unified policies.

Catweazle, itching powder and then Mr Tingle's slipper

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THEY are supposed to be pillars of society but this week a Harlow councillor steps forward to confess his schoolday misdemeanours to Nostalgia.

After reading our recent articles about the exploits of some of our readers, Labour councillor Ian Beckett was reminded of the punishment he received at primary school for his "tomfoolery" – the slipper.

A first year pupil at William Martin Junior School in 1970, Ian recalled it was at the hands of aptly-named teacher Mr Tingle that he suffered the most.

"For the record I absolutely was not a rebel; I was the court jester and it was this that got me into trouble," he explained.

"I remember on one occasion it was because I had stood in the toilet turning the light on and off. In my defence I was being creative as I was merely recreating a scene from one of my favourite TV programmes of the time – Catweazle – but having not expected to be discovered I didn't offer this explanation.

"When I eventually tired of my theatricals and opened the door, Mr Tingle was waiting with the slipper and proceeded to administer it.

"On another occasion, my best friend Clive and I created our own itching powder out of pencil sharpener shavings and put it down a girl's back, causing her to wriggle in discomfort and draw the attention of Mr Tingle.

"She told on us and for a moment we thought we might get away with it when she was asked to decide whether Clive and I got the slipper. However, she found the task of choosing too demanding and Mr Tingle once again dished out the punishment."

However, despite their clashes Mr Beckett says there are no hard feelings between him and his old teacher. "I have had occasions to see Mr Tingle over the years and now consider him a friend," he said.

"He was a product of the times and I don't think badly of him. I have fonder memories of my primary education than I do of my time at secondary school and if my character and nature is slightly warped I suspect it was always destined to be so."

● What was the worst punishment you ever received at school? Confess your wrongdoings to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

Share your London Olympics memories

Do you remember the London Olympics of 1948? If so, then pupils at one of Harlow's primary schools are keen to speak to you.

As part of a special Games project, a group of children at Holy Cross Catholic Academy, in Traceys Road, are looking for people to share their memories of the last London Olympics.

Whether you held or attended a special Olympics celebration back at home, were lucky enough to be among the crowds at any of the events or even just remember the national excitement of hosting the Games so soon after the Second World War, the school would like to hear from you. The pupils, who hope to feature the stories in their soon-to-be launched school newspaper, approached Nostalgia to see if we can help with their request.

Emma Beckwith, the school's international co-ordinator, said: "It would be wonderful to hear stories of past Olympics and maybe share some photographs. It would be a lovely feature for the first edition of our newspaper!"

● Do you have any stories or photographs from the last London Olympics? Write to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

➡ An exploding lavatory left emergency services puzzled. The blast happened in the men's toilets in Post Office Road, propelling manhole covers 20 feet into the air. There is speculation that the explosion was either caused by a spontaneous combustion of methane gases or was the work of vandals.

➡ Harlow Police have issued a warning following last week's Harvey Centre scare when a security guard moved a suspected bomb. Despite praising his bravery at the time, the police have now pointed out that no-one should touch such a package until it has been declared safe by experts.

➡ Residents are reminded to tune into ITV on Friday for The Six O'Clock Show, which will be broadcast live from the Harlow Playhouse. Presenters Michael Aspel, Danny Baker, Chris Tarrant, Joanna Monro and Emma Freud will be featuring items about the new town.

➡ Parents in Fernhill are being warned to keep a close eye on their children following an attempted abduction on Monday. A man aged 20-30 offered two girls sweets if they got in his car. When the girls, aged four and six, declined he sped off.

Mini sea monsters

THEY may look like monsters from another planet but these tiny horrors actually live at the very bottom of our deepest oceans.

Scientists discovered these diminutive Polychaetes - or scale worms - when exploring the murky depths for signs of life.

The scary-looking creatures have evolved to survive the intense pressures more than 1,000 meters below the water's surface, where they live in complete darkness.

New photos of the worms, which measure little more than 2-3 centimetres, show a fearsome set of jaws that can turn inside out to catch their prey.

The fascinating creatures are a key part of an ecosystem that remained completely undiscovered until 40 years ago.

But advancements in technology have allowed scientists to probe the hidden depths of the world oceans.

They have discovered thriving communities of creatures that live on and around hydrothermal vents - cracks in the seafloor that release superheated water and chemicals necessary for life to flourish.

Similar vents are believed to exist on Jupiter's moon Europa, leading some experts to believe they may hold clues to the existence of life on other planets.

Senior researcher Daniel Desbruyeres told reporters: "The recent discoveries of hydrothermal vents have changed our views of the whole marine realm."

"The deep sea realm is one of the most diverse habitats on Earth, yet our understanding of it is still in its infancy."

Midnight Walk

AFTER weeks of preparation and planning, the waiting is over.

Registration for this year's St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk opens today (Thursday) and the fundraising team are ready to receive your applications to 'do it in the dark'.

The popular 10k circular walk around Harlow takes place on Saturday, June 16, starting and finishing at the Water Gardens in the town centre.

The Star-backed walk is now in its fifth year and organisers have set a target of at least 1,350 people taking part. They are hoping to raise £90,000 for the care the hospice provides.

Registering for the hospice's biggest fundraising event of the year could not be easier. You can do so online or, if you prefer, call the fundraising team to request a registration form.

The cost of registration is £15 per person but those who sign up during March can take advantage of the special '2 for £20' promotion.

Tracy Stratford, events fundraiser at St Clare, said: "We are ready and waiting to process all the registrations, and with our '2 for £20' we are expecting to be busy."

"Last year more than 600 people signed up in the first four weeks."

She added: "We certainly hope that the people of Harlow and the surrounding area will once again come out in their thousands and support St Clare.

"The Midnight Walk is such a fun event with people of all ages dressing up in the infamous pink flashing bunny ears and walking round Harlow to the sound of drivers beeping their car horns in support!"

"It's a great night out with the girls, but whilst taking part they are raising valuable funds for the hospice."

St Clare currently receives only a quarter of its £2.7m annual running costs from the NHS. The rest it must raise itself.

Tracy added: "The £90,000 which we hope to raise this year could provide three whole weeks of care for eight patients in our in-patient unit."

"You can sign up as a team and you may even be featured in the Star leading up to the big night."

If you've never taken part in the Midnight Walk before and are wondering what all the excitement is about, check out the photos from previous walks at www.stclarehospice.org.uk/midnight.

● To register, ring the hospice fundraising team on 01279 773750, email fund@stclarehospice.org.uk to be sent a registration form or visit www.stclarehospice.org.uk/midnight to register online.

WIN pair of tickets to The Wizard of Oz

ENTER this week's competition and you could be off to see The Wizard of Oz.

It's your chance to follow the yellow brick road over the rainbow and into the London Palladium for Andrew Lloyd Webber's hit production, currently starring Russell Grant as The Wizard for a limited 12-week season.

Developed from the ever-popular MGM screenplay this production has been totally reconceived for the stage but contains all the much-loved songs from the Oscar-winning movie score, all the favourite characters and iconic moments plus a few surprises along the way.

Click your heels together and join Scarecrow, Tin Man, Lion, Dorothy and her little dog Toto as they journey through the magical land of Oz to meet the Wizard and obtain their heart's desires.

But watch out for the Wicked Witch of the West and her winged monkeys as you rediscover the real story of Oz in this fantastic musical treat for all the family.

This week we are giving you the chance to win one of five pairs of tickets to this musical.

For a chance to win a pair of tickets, answer the question on the competition coupon and return it to: The Wizard of Oz Competition, Harlow Star, PO Box 268, Cambridge, CB24 6HF by Wednesday, March 7.

Alternatively you can enter via our dedicated competition link at www.harlowstar.co.uk. Be sure to enter 'The Wizard of Oz' in the competition line or your entry will be discounted.

Terms & Conditions

Tickets are for available for the performance on Wednesday, April 18, 2012, only. Tickets are subject to availability. Prize cannot be transferred, transport is not included and no cash alternative is available.

Mother's Day

Advertisement Feature

It's Mother's Day on Sunday, March 18 this year. The day mums up and down the country are supposed to put their feet up and bask in their offspring's appreciation while they're cooked for, taken out and generally spoiled – that's the theory at least!

The earliest Mother's Day celebrations can be traced back to the spring celebrations of ancient Greece in honour of Rhea, the Mother of the Gods. During the 1600s, England celebrated a day called Mothering Sunday on the fourth Sunday of Lent and so the first Mothering Sunday honoured the mothers of England.

During this time many of the England's poor worked as servants for the wealthy. As most jobs were located far from their homes, the servants would live at the houses of their employers.

On Mothering Sunday the servants would have the day off and were encouraged to return home and spend the day with their mothers. A special cake, called the mothering cake, was often brought along to provide a festive touch.

As Christianity spread throughout Europe the celebration changed to honour the Mother Church – the spiritual power that gave them life and protected them from harm. Over time the church festival blended with the Mothering Sunday celebration. People began honouring their mothers as well as the church.

In the United States Mother's Day was first suggested in 1872 as a day dedicated to peace. By 1911 Mother's Day was celebrated in almost every state. In 1914, President Woodrow Wilson made an official announcement proclaiming Mother's Day as a national holiday that was to be held each year on the second Sunday of May.

While many countries of the world celebrate their own Mother's Day at different times throughout the year, there are some countries such as Denmark, Finland, Italy, Turkey, Australia, and Belgium that celebrate Mother's Day on the second Sunday of May.

One thing's for certain – wherever you are, don't forget your mother this Mother's Day. You'll find plenty of good ideas for Mother's Day treats on this page!

Your stars with Patrick Arundell to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
Look to the nuances of situations. Life is rarely black and white, even if we find it comforting to think that is what it is. The reality is that all sorts of subtleties come into play. For example, someone may say something which seems like criticism but really they're trying to help you. Will you be receptive? Don't take their input personally. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
A new group of friends or a mutual interest can have a greater influence on you than you may have imagined. If like you they are demonstrating a thirst for new knowledge, this can be a common theme, as can travel and links to noble projects, fund raising and charitable causes. It can be reassuring to feel part of person-kind. Call your prediction line for more advice...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Your career prospects are under the astral spotlight, and you may also want to show more determination and authority in general in your life. Feeling admired and respected will be important. Yet the old maxim of earning rather than demanding respect, should be borne in mind. Activities in your local community can see you take the lead. Call for more news...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Control can be an important issue for you, and this doesn't mean that you need to control others, only that you have a fierce desire to control your own personal environs. But sometimes this may serve to close in your world, but a huge gust of astral energy is asking you now to reach out and explore at as many levels as you possibly can. Call for more advice...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
It is not usually your style to 'fess' up deeply personal issues too easily. Of course you like the undivided attention of your audience and will work hard to achieve this, but overt shows of emotion can seem beneath you. Yet you are in a time of the year when some deep compulsions are at work which can seem to leave you less in control. Call for more news and advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
You seem to be having quite an effect on people. They are certainly realizing what you are about, whether you are being more assertive at work, making all the moves towards someone you like or working hard to improve co-operation in an existing tie. You can also find that your choice of companion can change now, as you enjoy a feistier interaction. Call for more...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
The Sun and Jupiter continue to prime one another positively, great for any getting-fit activities you plan or for going for it when it comes to utilizing your business acumen. Your ruler also remains in an acquisitive zone when it comes to boosting your love life, but be open-minded about just where you can meet someone new. Call for your love scope in full...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Your ruler Pluto is an awesome influence, and this week it permeates its force in a potentially life changing way. However, this calls upon you to put that more reserved side of your nature to one side, and embrace its influence fulsomely. Reach out, connect, listen, interact, the results could be truly quite breathtaking. Scorpio. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
Are you one of those Sagittarians who has never really understood why people want to settle down early in life? Umh, perhaps you are, as the roamer instinct in you is often strong, but this is a time when you can start to see the virtues of being more rooted, of how family and home life has some amazing compensations. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
Things can move quickly. There is a sense of drama to proceedings. Although you do have that reserved side to your nature, equally you can be such fun once you are comfortable with your situation, and this is a time when the words can tumble from your mouth with wit, veracity and zest. You are shining brightly, so don't hold back. Call for more advice...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
The stars suggest that if you've burned the midnight oil in pursuit of an important goal in the past, it can start to come back to you now. But as is often the case with you, it's not so much cash that's on your mind, as much as how this can impact on your values, and your sense of self-respect and well being. Things look good here too. Call for your financial forecast...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
The collective will of the heavens is very much behind you just now Pisces, but is that how it feels to you? If not, this may be down to looking outwards for inspiration rather than finding it from within yourself. See how co-operation in an existing tie, you can also find that your choice of companion can change now, as you enjoy a feistier interaction. Call for more...

Three short plays, three nights and three directorial debuts

AUDIENCES can tuck into a feast of mirth and melodrama at Victoria Hall Theatre from tonight (Thursday) as Harlow Theatre Company's annual one-act play festival begins its three-night run.

First-time directors Martin Colton, Dolleen Howlett and Gavin Williams will all be hoping to make an impression with a trio of short plays exploring the familiar complexities of human relationships.

The triple-bill features Bar & Ger, a tender story of the lifetime bond between a brother and sister; Wanda's Visit, the hilarious tale of a married couple whose flatlining marriage is shaken up by the sudden appearance of the husband's eccentric ex-girlfriend, and Alan Ayckbourn's affecting one-acter Talk In The Park, a beautifully-observed comedy based around the bizarre conversations between strangers sharing a park bench.

HTC chairman Kyle Jagers said: "The one-act play festival is a fantastic way for the company to blood new directors, with many of those who have featured in the past – myself included – going on to direct time and time again.

"This year's programme features three excellent short plays from three very promising first-time directors. It promises to be a fantastic evening's entertainment."

The festival opens tonight at the theatre in Bury Road, Old Harlow and runs for three consecutive nights.

Performances begin at 8pm and tickets cost £10 (£8 concessions). They are from 01279 420062 or www.victoriahalltheatre.co.uk.

It's classical music and pop in perfect harmony

By CHRIS MOSS

A BRIT Award-winning classical boy band will be sending hearts aflutter in Harlow tomorrow (Friday) when they raise the roof at The Playhouse.

Superstar vocal harmony group Blake – Humphrey Berney, Ollie Baines, Jules Knight and Stephen Bowman – will set pulses racing with a swoonsome set of romantic love songs performed in the inimitable style that has won them an army of fans across the globe in recent years.

The talented quartet first shot to fame in 2007 following the release of their self-titled debut album, which promptly scooped them a Classical Brit Award and went on to storm the pop charts.

Before long they found themselves singing for Dame Shirley Bassey at her 70th birthday bash and performing in front of 80,000 football fans at Wembley Stadium, while their version of Swing Low was adopted as the England team's official anthem for the Rugby World Cup in 2007.

Blake's meteoric rise to fame continued with the release of albums And So It Goes the following year and Together in 2009, both of which showcased their knack for cleverly re-inventing classic pop hits and West End showtunes.

A series of headline UK performances in 2009 was followed last year by a 150-date world tour, with multiple appearances on primetime UK and US TV shows helping to cement their position as one of the country's best-loved pop/classical crossover groups. Audience members at tomorrow's Love Lifts Us Up show can expect an exclusive taste of what to expect from the band's yet-to-be-released fourth album as well as favourites from their previous three releases.

The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £21 (£20 Playhouse Supporters' Club members). They are available from the box office on from 01279 431945 or online at www.playhouseharlow.com.

>>what's on

THE PLAYHOUSE (01279) 431945
Playhouse Square, Harlow

>>drama Coronation Street star Margi Clarke (Jackie Dobbs) takes the lead role in the play Hormonal Housewives on Saturday. It follows a group of forty-something housewives as they battle against weight gain, mood swings, PMS, men, stretch marks and chocolate. The performance begins at 7.30pm and tickets cost £21.

>>comedy Inimitable Aussie stand-up and ex heavy metal drummer Steve Hughes brings his deliciously dark brand of cerebral social commentary to the Playhouse Studio on Saturday. Following storming sets on Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow and Channel 4's Stand Up For The Week, the straight-talking comic has been rightly hailed as one of the most original and thought-provoking acts on the circuit. The performance starts at 8pm and tickets cost £14.50 (£12.50 concessions).

>>variety Join nefarious ringmaster Dr Haze and his macabre mob of twisted contortionists, sinister sword swallows and demonic dwarves as the The Circus of Horrors comes to town on Wednesday. Fresh from wowing the judges on Britain's Got Talent, the cast promise more thrills and chills with new show The Ventriloquist. The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £19 (£17 concessions).

>>music D-Day Darlings is a tribute to those who helped to keep the nation's spirits up during the Second World War. Featuring pitch-perfect covers of wartime classics including We'll Meet Again, Now Is The Hour, Siegfried Line and Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy, the show is next Thursday (March 8) starting at 2.30pm. Tickets cost £13.

It's spy versus spy in love triangle rom-com

I SPY: Reece Witherspoon, Chris Pine and Tom Hardy star in THIS MEANS WAR

THIS MEANS WAR certificate 12A, 1h37m

ALL'S fair in love and war for two US government spies with their hearts set on the same woman in an action-packed comedy from director McG.

Scripted by Simon Kinberg and Timothy Dowling, this hare-brained buddy movie delivers slam-bang thrills and a few sparkling one-liners as rivalry between the two elite operatives escalates out of control, resulting in amusing abuses of CIA resources.

The film opens with a fast-paced action sequence in Hong Kong, where agents FDR (Chris Pine) and Tuck (Tom Hardy) are on assignment to apprehend crimelord Heinrich (Til Schweiger). Instructions from their boss Collins (Angela Bassett) to be discreet are gleefully ignored, leading to a high-profile shootout.

The buddies then return to headquarters to face the music. To lighten the mood, ladies' man FDR helps shy and gallant Tuck to dip his toes back into the dating pool by creating a flattering profile for his friend on a relationships website.

Soon after, Tuck accepts a first date with Lauren (Reese Witherspoon), a beautiful consumer testing manager, who is recovering from a break-up from her sweetheart (Warren Christie).

Tuck is instantly smitten, but soon after the date FDR also encounters Lauren and he falls for her acidic wit.

Armed with a dazzling array of hi-tech gadgetry, FDR and Tuck compete against each other to win Lauren's heart. She is torn between the two men, unaware they know each other, and seeks advice from her potty-mouthed sister Trish (Chelsea Handler).

This Means War starts with a bang and McG knows how to bolt together explosive sequences that quicken the pulse. However, comic interludes don't always hit their target and the voyeuristic nature of the men's surveillance leaves a nasty taste in the mouth, especially when they resort to documenting entanglements in the bedroom.

Crucially, the film's inherent design flaw – we have to side with one of her suitors – means half the audience will be disappointed by the overblown climax when the love-struck lady makes her choice.

The film plays to Witherspoon's strengths as a comic actress, placing her at the centre of some elaborately staged set pieces, unaware her two handsome suitors are best buddies.

Alas, Hardy struggles to find his comic timing to soften his bruising hard man image while Pine mugs shamelessly.

Thank goodness for Handler, scene-stealing with gusto as the saucy sibling who dishes out filthy words of wisdom during her own love-making.

THE BEST EXOTIC MARIGOLD HOTEL

Evelyn (Judi Dench) has recently lost her husband and is coming to terms with solitude in her twilight years. Determined to start anew, she abandons Britain for Jaipur and a grand retirement home called The Best Exotic Marigold Hotel. En route, Evelyn meets six other retirees all bound for this luxury development for residents in their golden years: cantankerous wheelchair user Muriel (Maggie Smith), who is bypassing the NHS waiting lists to undergo a hip replacement abroad; waspish snob Jean (Penelope Wilton) and her long-suffering husband Douglas (Bill Nighy); retired judge Graham (Tom Wilkinson); incorrigible ladies' man Norman (Ronald Pickup); and love-hungry spinster Madge (Celia Imrie).

SAFE HOUSE Agent Matt Weston (Ryan Reynolds) is caretaker of a CIA safe house in Johannesburg. His routine is thrown into disarray by the arrival of agent Daniel Kiefer (Robert Patrick) with a prisoner – rogue operative Tobin Frost (Denzel Washington) who sold out the agency to the highest bidder. In the middle of an interrogation the building's defences are compromised by a gang of gun-toting thugs led by Vargas (Fares Fares). Matt escapes with Tobin, bundling the prisoner into the boot of a car as he makes a hasty exit and alerting his boss David Barlow (Brendan Gleeson) and senior agent Catherine Linklater (Vera Farmiga) to the clear and present danger as a game of cat and mouse begins through the streets of South Africa.

THE WOMAN IN BLACK London solicitor Arthur Kipps (Daniel Radcliffe) is haunted by the death of his wife Stella (Sophie Stuckey) during childbirth. He seeks refuge in his love for their three-year-old son, Joseph (Misha Handley) but his work suffers as a consequence. As a result, Arthur is despatched to the remote village of Crythin Gifford where he must prove himself by attending to the papers of Alice Drablow, the recently deceased owner of Eel Marsh House. The locals, including innkeeper Fisher (Shaun Dooley) and his wife (Mary Stockley), try to ward him off but Arthur persists and before long he glimpses a mysterious woman (Liz White) who is blamed for the deaths of children in the village.

THE MUPPETS A muppet called Walter (voiced by Peter Linz) lives with his human brother Gary (Jason Segel), who is about to celebrate 10 years with his girlfriend Mary (Amy Adams). The trio visit Los Angeles where Walter discovers that scheming oil man Tex Richman (Chris Cooper) plans to tear down the Muppet Theatre and drill for the black gold that lies beneath the building. The only way to thwart Richman is to rally the troops, so Walter galvanises Kermit (Steve Whitmire), Miss Piggy (Eric Jacobson), Fozzie Bear (Jacobson again), Gonzo (Dave Goelz) and the gang into organising a televised appeal in the company of a number of celebrity guests including Whoopi Goldberg and Selena Gomez.

WANDERLUST certificate 12A, 1h31m

A STRESSED New York couple discovers a gentler pace of life outside of the big city in David Wain's raucous comedy.

George (Paul Rudd) and Linda (Jennifer Aniston) – pictured right – are too busy fighting the tide of the rat race to devote enough time and energy to their relationship, so when redundancy derails their plans they are forced to regroup.

The lovebirds reluctantly decide to move to Georgia to live with George's crass brother, Rick (Ken Marino). En route, they make a pit stop at a hippy, hedonistic community called Elysium, led by the charismatic Seth (Justin Theroux) who believes that all forms of pleasure should be embraced by the residents.

At first Linda refuses to enter into the spirit of Elysium, but George finds the openness of his new surroundings a tonic, sharing his feelings with bumbling founder Carvin (Alan Alda).

But over time Linda begins to blossom and the lovers must look deep within to decide if their future lies together.

Classic '50s styling with four bedrooms

THIS large, detached four-bedroom house is in Felmongers, within the Mark Hall South area of eastern Harlow and just a short walk from Old Harlow's local shops, schools and pubs.

The property is set overlooking a green with many fine mature trees.

It is a striking house built in of classic 1950s architectural style that won many awards for its modernistic and courageous design. Today it still provokes curiosity and interest because of its individual appearance.

The house has been lovingly cared for over the years and also extended to offer much larger accommodation than the external appearance suggests. Inside, it is very light and spacious.

Working In Partnership with your Estate Agent

When the time comes to sell your home it is important to ensure that you entrust the sale to a reputable estate agent if the stress of selling is to be minimised.

However, the most successful sales tend to be those where the seller and agent work hand in hand during the marketing process. Here are some pointers:

the viewing went, so he/she can follow-up appropriately.

Keep the house and garden clean and tidy at all times you never know when you might get a short-notice viewing, or interested parties peering over the fence.

Aim to be as flexible as possible over viewing times and completion dates.

Agree to listen constructively to your agent's feedback and recommendations.

As your selling agent, we share your objectives - to achieve the fastest sale at the highest possible price with minimum disruption to your lifestyle. So help us to help you. After all - we're on your side!

Be open with your agent about any problems with the property. Even if these cannot be solved, awareness of an issue could save a sale.

Ensure your agent is properly informed about which fixtures and fittings will be staying/going.

Tell the agent if you have any direct buyer enquiries - it can avoid confusion over commission.

Ideally your agent should accompany all viewings, but if you show the buyers round yourself, immediately let your agent know how Think carefully before securing other debts against your home. Your home may be repossessed if you do not keep up repayments on your mortgage.

We do not charge fees for arranging your mortgage as we are paid by the lender. However, if you prefer, you can pay us a broker fee of up to 1.5% of the mortgage amount and receive the lender's fee yourself.

Smooth, quiet and refined

By Matt Kimberley

THE XC90 is 10 years old this year and, despite not having changed all that much, it looks none the worse for the time gone by.

It's Volvo's most successful model, responsible for £3.8bn of revenue worldwide in its most successful year in production. For 2012 it has been freshened up ahead of a completely new replacement scheduled for 2014, so what better way to test it than to take it for a very long drive?

Over the years sales figures have indirectly pared the XC90 range down to just one engine. More were offered for some years but the vast majority of people never looked past the D5 diesel so these days that's all you can have. Nobody seems to mind.

The latest version is smooth, quiet and refined, although since this test vehicle is as new to the world as a tiny lamb in spring, its full performance and efficiency will take a while to show. With so few miles under its belt it's quite obviously a bit tight.

While it's not super-soft, it is on the soft side of average, using the benefit of chunky tyres to absorb a share of any impacts. In anticipation of the forecast sub-zero temperatures in my destination – Innsbruck in Austria – Volvo had fitted winter rubber which whined quite obviously on some motorway surfaces.

ECONOMY 34mpg
CO₂ RATING 219g/km

What's most impressive about the XC90 is the almost complete lack of wind noise. For such a big car with hardly inconspicuous frontal dimensions, it's a real surprise how quietly it cuts through the air.

But all things considered, the car is really very comfortable for cruising. Even on German motorways where the speed limit is just a recommendation, anything up to 90mph feels almost perfectly relaxed.

Only almost, though, because parts of the XC90 are showing their age. The six-speed automatic gearbox simply doesn't have a tall enough top gear and 70mph equates to well over 2,000rpm. It always feels like there should be an extra gear or two.

The handbrake is another bugbear. You press a lever with your foot to engage it and then pull a separate one with your hand to release it. But when you do the latter, the loud thunk as the foot-operated lever flings back to its original position is pretty unnecessary.

The practicality on offer is more impressive. The seven seats and extremely flexible configuration mean that the seating arrangements can be set up just how you most need them to be. Got skis? No problem. You might not get a bobsleigh in there, though.

A split tailgate provides a perch for sitting and getting your skis – or even just walking boots – on and off, and the buttons on the dashboard are all big, chunky and robust so you can use them even with thick gloves on. The SE Lux model I drove had a very handy feature for driving in Europe, altering the direction of the headlights to suit driving on the right. It sums up how well the XC90 has been thought out and developed over time.

On detours through London and Ingolstadt, the XC90's relatively slow-reacting steering is obvious, but that only encourages the kind of slower, more relaxed driving that suits family life. It's in no way sporty, though.

It's not as obviously stylised, as extrovert or perhaps as fashionable as some of the other options out there but it definitely makes some of its rivals look more than a little overpriced.

At £43,775 on the road for the bells-and-whistles Executive model it seems fantastic value for money. The engine is generally bulletproof after so long in existence, and I can't think of any location or situation where the XC90 would look out of place.

It has a kind of understated, inoffensive class that tends to inspire respect and appreciation, rather than automatically getting people's backs up as so many large 4x4s do.

After 900 miles, two fuel stops and a night in a strange little hotel in Ingolstadt, the XC90 showed what it's all about. It's not as flashy as some, but it still looks great and it copes with all aspects of life at least as well as anything else on the road.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer
your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Essex County Council

(Primrose Field, Harlow) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2012

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close Primrose Field, Harlow, from the garage entrance adjacent to property No.86, generally south, for a distance of approximately 35 metres.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 12 March 2012 for 2 weeks, weather permitting, or where appropriate signs are showing, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce while surface water pipelines are constructed to alleviate flooding in the area. Access for emergency vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

Primrose Field will be made two-way for the duration of the works. Heavy vehicles will be advised not to use the road as turning may be difficult.

The one way Order on Primrose Field, Harlow shall be temporarily suspended.

The Order will come into effect on 12 March 2012 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Liz Saville, Head of Network Management, County Hall, Chelmsford.

Dated: 1 March 2012.

To advertise your articles for sale for the price of just a phone call or text, just follow these two simple steps...

1 Before calling us, write down all that you want your advertisement to say. There is a minimum of 12 words per advert, but you can have as many classified adverts as you need. Remember, strictly one item per phone call and the item must be priced at £250 or less. Any items received that do not carry a price will not be published.

2 Now call us on 0905 624 2025
LINES OPEN 24 HOURS PER DAY SEVEN DAYS PER WEEK.

This service lasts approximately two minutes, plus the length of your message. Calls charged at £1.02 per minute plus network extras; calls from mobile will cost considerably more. Service provided J-Media (UK) Ltd.

or text 87070

Start your text with HEN then your advert to a maximum of 20 words. You do not need to add your phone number unless it is different to the mobile used to text the advert.
Example: HEN (space) G. Plan two piece suite, two seater sofa and armchair, super condition £99.
Charged at £1.50 per text plus normal network charges.
Only one item per text.

Champions semi loss for Mitchinson

ACE bowler Steve Mitchinson reached the last four of the England Champion of Champions competition before he was knocked out by the eventual winner Mark Royal.

Mitchinson, from Challinors in Harlow, won two matches in the event at Hayling Island in Hampshire before he faced Royal (Suffolk) in the last four.

The Harlow bowler's strong form was more than matched by Royal who converted on numerous occasions to leave Mitchinson trailing 9-0.

Mitchinson, a Tye Green Indoor Bowls Club member, eventually got on the scoreboard and at one stage trailed 15-10.

However, Royal stepped up a gear with some quality bowls to win 21-10 and book his final place.

Royal then went on to win the final by the same margin.

Earlier, Mitchinson faced Paul Gent from Kent in the first round.

Neither player managed to build up a significant lead Mitchinson won 21-19.

Mitchinson faced a step up in class in the second round as he faced another Kent player, Tom Doig, also an England international.

It was close and at one stage Doig went 15-12 ahead, but the Essex player raised his game.

He picked up two threes, a two and a single to leave the England international shell-shocked.

Mitchinson eventually won 21-15 to book a spot in the last four.

Mitchinson had qualified for the Champion of Champions event by seeing off competition from other clubs in Essex and a regional section also involving Middlesex.

Only 16 players had qualified.

Leaders deal blow to Rams

Harlow 17, Holt 21

RFU London, div three north east

AN inability to take first-half chances proved costly for the Rams as they slipped to a home defeat against leaders Holt, writes DAVID RIMMER.

Holt had the more clinical edge at the crucial times and they are all set to win the title after stretching their lead to 16 points.

Harlow remain second after picking up a bonus point from Saturday's defeat for losing by less than seven points.

Both Harlow and Holt were missing key players.

Rams scrum-half Rhys Powell and full-back Rob Mackie were unavailable.

Hooker Martin Mallia was also ruled out as he was suspended for the red card he received against Wymondham, while Luke Bowering (back injury) was also out.

Rams coach Lee Harron said: "It was not easy with the changes we had to make this week, but the result was disappointing.

"We were not clinical enough in the right areas such as the line-outs – and they were."

The Rams exerted pressure for the first 20 minutes, but the visitors absorbed this and stole crucial line-out ball.

Holt took the lead in the 23rd minute. Strong pressure was exerted by their pack and Ashley Wood dived over for a try converted by Tim Allen.

Holt doubled their advantage on 32 minutes when well-worked play from a line-out saw Andrew Danes touch down. Allen converted.

Shortly after, a try-scoring opportunity was lost when Rams fly-half Michael Dobson broke into the visitors' twenty-two, but had no support.

Dobson kicked a 38th-minute penalty and Harlow trailed 14-3 at half-time.

Harlow wing Werne Kotze (maul offence) and Holt fly-half Graham Ilsley (late tackle) were sin-binned on 41 and 55 minutes.

Down to 14, Harlow did not concede, but Dobson missed a penalty awarded for Ilsley's yellow card offence. Four minutes later Wood scored his second try from a scrum.

Allen converted and Harlow trailed 21-3.

The hosts were wilting at this stage but they fought back.

A powerful run from substitute Paul Eynon saw him break a tackle to score a 75th-minute try converted by Dobson.

Harlow scored again from the game's last play. Sub Darren Hawkins took an inside pass to dive over in injury-time.

Dobson converted.

Harron added: "We could have rolled over [at 21-3] down, but we kept fighting and I was pleased with that.

That bonus point could yet be important."

HARLOW: Hills, Drake, Vanbeck, Heapy, Kotze (Hawkins 62), Dobson, Woodington, Cunningham, Wilkins, Stonehouse (Wright 65), Twiner, Palmer (Eynon 48), Roberts, Davey, Claridge.

Hawks' Plate joy

Harlow Hawks 73, North Herts Knights 64

Herts County Basketball, Plate final

PLATE JOY: The successful Harlow Hawks team with the Herts Plate

Harlow Hawks player-coach Shab Niaz was thrilled after his club won their first trophy in three seasons.

Hawks won the Herts County Plate competition when they beat Herts League division two outfit North Herts Knights in Sunday's final at the Queens School in Bushey.

Coach Shab Niaz said: "I'm delighted that we won the competition and have something to show for the season.

"It has been three seasons since we last won any silverware."

Sunday's match started tentatively as both teams felt each other out.

Division one Hawks had a big height advantage inside and this caused the Knights' defence to collapse.

Ayo Oyerinde and Shab Niaz converted lay-ups as the Hawks went on a 12-0 run late in the quarter to put them firmly in control.

The Harlow side went into the second quarter leading 20-13.

This saw good attacking build-up play from Lee Jones.

The Atkinson brothers (Simon and Luke) also put points on the board for the Hawks.

Niaz's men led 37-30 at the halfway stage.

The third quarter was a low-scoring period.

The Hawks struggled to build fluency, but Nick Moss kept the scoreboard ticking over, adding six points.

The Atkinson brothers continually made it hard for Knights as they blocked shots and tidied up any missed attempts.

Harlow led 54-44 at the end of the third quarter.

However, the Knights fought back and closed the deficit to just four points.

Hawks regrouped and slowed the game down to try and break the Knights' rhythm.

A killer three-pointer from Joe Taffe-Atkins put Harlow firmly in charge as some of the energy drained from the Knights players' legs.

Simon Atkinson answered the Hawks' need for points.

He finished a number of plays inside and got himself to the free throw line to push the lead back up.

Hawks, who last won this competition during the 2006-07 season, eventually won by nine points.

A relieved Niaz added: "Knights had the momentum near the end of the game and we were able to make a couple of smart plays at both ends of the floor to secure the win.

"Credit goes to Knights for making us fight all the way to the end."

Hawks host Herts Cup winners Hertfordshire Warriors at the leisure-zone tomorrow (Friday).

HARLOW HAWKS: S Atkinson (15pts), Taffe-Atkins (15), Moss (13), Niaz (11), L Atkinson (8), Oyerinde (6), Jones (5).

Late winner hits title bid

THE title hopes of Harlow were dented after they went down to a last-minute winner in a 3-2 loss at Wapping III in the premier division of the Essex Women's Hockey League on Saturday.

The score was 2-2 when Harlow keeper Linda Rowley was adjudged to have fouled a home forward.

Rowley was sin-binned, leaving Emma Tweddle to face the penalty flick which she could not save.

The result left Harlow in second spot and six points behind leaders East London with five games left.

Earlier, the deadlock was broken in the 34th minute when pressure from Wapping's forwards forced a goal.

After the break Harlow exerted pressure which was rewarded when Claire Attack threaded the

Harlow school defeat cream of the capital

A PRIMARY school team from Harlow beat the cream of London and Essex to triumph in a regional football tournament held at the Arsenal FC Academy.

The William Martin School side represented Outer Essex after winning the Harlow town and county tournaments.

The boys played against other Essex and London borough primary schools in the English Schools' FA Cup tournament in North London.

Against tough opposition, the boys won the tournament and proudly collected the William Moffat Trophy to add to their growing collection.

The team now progresses to the next stage of the competition and will take part in a regional tournament to be held in Greenwich on March 24, against schools from the whole of the South East. Angela Brister, deputy head teacher at the school, said: "The boys were a credit to the school and their families. The teams they came up against William Bellamy Primary School, Moulsham Junior School and Churchfields Primary, were also tremendous sides.

"The boys were very quick, listened to their coach and supported each other. I cannot believe that I am able to state that William Martin Junior football team is officially the best football team in Essex!"

Head teacher Janet Matthews said: "I'm very proud of the team's performance and the success the boys are having."

"I would also like to thank my deputy Angela Brister and coach Tony Wickenden, from Paringdon Sports Club, for all their hard work in getting the boys to this stage."

Grays point puts bad run in shade

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman was buoyant after his side's improved display secured a point at fellow play-off hopefuls Grays Athletic in Ryman division one north.

Harlow Town were well worth their point on Saturday which came after indifferent performances against Leiston, Cheshunt and Redbridge.

Chapman said: "After the last three performances we were excellent from start to finish [against Grays]. Ryan Kirby was excellent at the back and Leon Lalite and Getro Kilapi did well in midfield."

"I left James Peagram out against Redbridge but he came back and gave their left-back a torrid time."

Harlow had the perfect start as

Grays Ath 1, Harlow Tn 1
Ryman League, division one north they went ahead in only the second minute.

Winger Emmanuel Osei - making his first start since signing from Brentwood - was fouled by Junior Baker and the latter was booked as a free-kick was awarded to the visitors.

In a training ground routine which paid off, Dave Cowley - playing against the side he left a month ago - curled the ball around the wall and into the bottom right corner of the net.

Chapman said: "It was something we have practised in training and it worked perfectly. It was a great strike from Dave Cowley."

Grays had a penalty appeal turned down following a Cowley challenge in the box, before they came close to scoring on 15 minutes.

A cross from Joao Carlos deflected off Harlow right-back Donny Barnard and hit a post before being cleared.

The hosts picked up four yellow cards before the break, while the home keeper denied Osei in a one-on-one situation on 35 minutes.

After the break, Jeff Hammond wasted a great chance for Harlow and a Cowley corner hit the home bar before Grays cleared.

The hosts equalised on 76 minutes. Craig Pope met Harry Agombar's corner with a glancing header which beat Hawks keeper Bertrand Bossu.

Chapman said: "We were caught a bit flat-footed and did not react well."

As Grays looked for a winner Bossu made two great saves while at the other end, skipper Danny Brown fired a shot against a post with a powerful eight-yard shot from a corner in the closing minutes.

Chapman said: "Danny struck it well, but they had two chances at the end as well and Bossu's saves were fantastic. We had chances to go 2-0 up and if we had taken one of them I think we would have won."

"I felt we were the better side over 90 minutes."

HARLOW TN: Bossu, Barnard, Brown, Haverson, Kirby, Kilapi (Bruno 65), Cowley (Deane 80), Lalite, Osei, Hammond, Peagram. Subs not used: Taylor, Maxwell.

Att: 218.

The life of Riley now includes a black belt!

A HARLOW youngster's hard work in karate has paid off after he gained a black belt.

Stewards School pupil Riley Halson (12) received the award after a grading was held at the Herts & Essex Shotokan Karate Club in Stansted Mountfitchet.

He had to perform kata exercises (patterns) and fought against fellow club members.

Riley, of Watersmeet in Harlow, also had to answer questions in Japanese during the grading.

He is coached by Sensei Roger Matonga (4th dan) at the Stansted Mountfitchet club.

Riley also attends Harlow Shotokan Karate Club and is taught by Sensei Nick Jeffrey (4th Dan).

Riley's mother Kelly Halson said: "He has been going to karate since he was about seven and has worked incredibly hard to achieve such a high grade."

"We are very proud of him."

Meet the man Spurs banked on

HARLOW Penguins swimming coach Alan Canham oversaw the transfers that shocked Britain when Tottenham Hotspur signed Argentinean World Cup winners Ossie Ardiles and Ricky Villa in 1978 for a combined fee of £700,000.

Being accountant for the bank which looked after the London giants during the 1970s and '80s meant those decades were exciting times for Canham.

Canham (71) is now retired but has faced some tough times, most of all when he was diagnosed with cancer in 2003.

Given the all-clear in 2008, Canham has now started competing at swimming tournaments once again and recently won a medal at the South East Regional Championships.

Canham spoke to Star Sports Editor ALAN SCOTT as he recalled his time dealing with the Spurs board during this time.

He organised for bank staff to head to the club on matchdays and take the money.

This was before credit cards, ticket lines and when the majority of fans were season ticket holders.

With huge crowds, tens of thousands of pounds in cash was collected by the bank's staff and stored in the vaults until it could be counted on a Monday after a weekend match.

Canham, who has been involved with the swimming club since 1979 and has lived in North Weald since 1971, recalls fondly his dealings with the Londoners – even though he wasn't much of a football fan, let alone a Spurs aficionado!

"I had to sort out the finance for Ossie Ardiles and Ricky Villa. At the time they were the only foreign purchases. I had to get approval from the Bank of England. I spoke to somebody I knew [at the Bank of England].

"Barclays used to handle all the money [from a] game on a Saturday or a Wednesday. And if the club needed to get their hands on the money quickly, we always had a few hundred thousand available. We would count the money for them – we didn't have any counting machines. We had to put the cash in and clear it for them or they would not have been able to sign [Ardiles and Villa].

"I think they were the first major foreign imports. They cost about £700,000. It's not a lot in today's prices but then it was – for a football company that was not on the Stock Exchange.

"It needed to get approval from the Board [at Barclays Bank].

"Shares [in the club] were changing hands for £2.50. If you were able to, you could buy all the shares in Tottenham Hotspur for £15,000. That would have got you the ground, the training ground at Cheshunt and quite a few houses [around White Hart Lane]."

That seems incredible today when Spurs would look for

perhaps upwards of £50m for a star player such as Gareth Bale or Luka Modric if they were to move to another club.

Canham would deal with the likes of Pat Jennings and Martin Chivers on his regular sorties to White Hart Lane.

But the 71-year-old was indifferent about his regular meetings with the Spurs chairmen and board at the ground.

"I'm not a Spurs fan, I'm not even much of a football fan. I knew the players. I opened a bank account for Pat Jennings. He kept calling me 'Sir' in his lovely, soft Irish voice – and Barry Daines had a terrible stutter. He was alright on the pitch though. He was shouting at people then, so he was okay."

Nowadays, Canham can relax in his retirement at his North Weald home.

He devotes some of his spare time to his other great love – swimming. He has coached at Harlow Penguins over four decades.

Having battled back from cancer, Canham is now coaching youngsters again and competing at tournaments, despite rapidly approaching his 72nd birthday. He turns 72 in a fortnight.

He coaches swimmers for up to nine hours each week at the leisurezone complex.

Canham has overseen plenty of highs and lows with the Harlow Penguins, including the closure of the old pool in Second Avenue due to health and safety issues in 2007.

"There were so many chemicals in the water. You had to keep emptying the pool. People were coughing. You could not stand in the gallery," he said.

Canham contacted health and safety officials at Chelmsford who closed the pool immediately – just 10 days before Penguins' biggest meet of the year, its open gala.

The club had no pool for 18 months until it moved into the plush new facility at leisurezone in First Avenue.

But from a low of 40 members, the club is thriving once again with 250 swimmers now.

And Canham, who was awarded the prestigious Silver Pin by the British Amateur Swimming Association for services to the sport a few years ago, is relishing every minute.

But the chapter of his life where he regularly dealt with one of English football's most famous teams, will live long in the memory.

A WAITING confirmation from his contact at the Bank of England to complete the transfers of South American duo Ossie Ardiles and Ricky Villa was all in a day's work for Alan Canham.

Having impressed as Argentina won the 1978 World Cup on home soil, the pair looked to become the first Latin Americans to play in the old first division.

Canham is now coach at Harlow Penguins, but back then he was the accountant at the Barclays Bank branch which looked after the account of the North London giants.

He used his relationship with the Bank of England to make sure the transfers went ahead without a hitch.

Considering the millions that are exchanged for players in this day and age, it's incredible to think that he had to seek special clearance for Tottenham to lay out the comparatively paltry fee of £700,000 for the duo!

Canham, now retired, was based at the Barclays in Lower Tottenham.

He worked there and dealt with Spurs from the mid-1960s and even when he switched to the Barclays at Stamford Hill, the club still asked for him to deal with their account.

The account of the Double winners was by far the most important account he looked after.

Rams clip Swallows

A STRONG first half laid the foundations for Harlow to seal a 15-0 home victory over Southwold Swallows in the RFU Women's Challenge Cup second round.

The hosts went 5-0 ahead when blindside flanker Carla Marshall charged down a loose ball to score an unconverted try.

Harlow increased their lead when number eight Anna Nickell took the ball from a scrum to score an unconverted try.

Davina McLellan then set up Sarah Stimpson for an unconverted try.

There was no score in the second half.

HARLOW: Baldwin, Cotterill, Wooller, Doherty, Rochester, Marshall (Boggas 65), Dixon, Nickell, Smith (King 65), Stimpson, Gordon (Hunter 65), McLellan, Hancock, Evans, McKenna.

Connor joy at South of England Champs

CONNOR Simpson performed outstandingly at the South of England Ten Pin Bowling Championships.

The 15 year-old is a member of the Harlow Youth Tenpin Bowling Club and was overall champion and singles winner in his age group.

He bowled a 201 game and a personal best (PB) game series of 537 in the process.

Two top 10 finishes were recorded by Jimmy Simmonds.

In the singles he bowled games of 245 followed by a 201 in a three game series for a 578 total.

Partnering Dale Hunter in the doubles, Simmonds also bowled a PB of 221.

Not to be outdone, the two girls in the team also managed top 10 places.

Niamh Simpson and Shannon Malloy came 7th and 10th respectively in their age groups.

The tournament at Dunstable attracted almost 500 young bowlers.

Connor kept up his successful streak when he came top of his group in another competition in Worcester.

He was top of his group with games of 210 and a PB of 224 for a six game average of 178.

His sister Ellie Simpson scored a PB three-game series of 511 and ended the tournament as the winner with an average of 164.

Harry Brinkley, one of the youngest members of the team, averaged 109 and also won his group.

The team are hoping to build on this success when they compete in the English National Championships at Nottingham in May.

Runner's Valley of hope

ANDY Bradley was the first Harlow Running Club finisher at the Roding Valley half marathon.

Bradley completed Sunday's race in one hour, 37 minutes and 16 seconds. He came 166th from 910 finishers.

He was followed home by club-mate Matthew Jones, who clocked 1:48.40 to finish 379th.

Half marathon debutants Laura Gregory (584th) and Odette Galea (585th)

>>>running

clocked 1:58.29 and 1:58.30 respectively to come and respectively.

Joanne Mills was 747th in 2:10.08.

The event started at Ashton Playing Fields in Woodford Green and passed through Roding Valley and Chigwell before finishing back at Ashton Playing Fields.

The course was undulating and ideal for marathon training.

Play-offs the focus for Hawks

By DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman has given up any realistic hope of his side winning the Ryman League division one north title.

Harlow Town have picked up just four points from their last four matches and have slipped to 5th, the final play-off spot.

Although they have a game in hand on the two top teams, Harlow are respectively 15 and 17 points behind second-placed Enfield Town and leaders Leiston.

Chapman, right, said: "I cannot see both teams having a bad turn of form. I think Enfield or Leiston will win it."

With the gap from the top two considerable, realistically only three play-off spots are up for grabs and the competition is hotting up with only seven points separating third-placed Needham Market and 9th-placed Tilbury.

Chapman feels his team need eight wins and a draw from the remaining 12 matches.

"We have 36 points to go for and I feel we will make the play-offs if we get 25 points," he said.

"We need to keep the pressure on the other teams. There could be a team that makes a late run like we did last year."

The first two of Harlow's 12 games see them host close rivals Waltham Abbey this Saturday before they face Heybridge Swifts away in the league on Tuesday.

Chapman said: "We want six points. Waltham Abbey will be up for it and some of their players are from Harlow."

"They will want to put one over us after we beat them 3-1."

He added: "They will work tirelessly and will work to the end. It will be hard, but if we play like we did against Grays [a 1-1 draw last Saturday], I am confident we will get the three points."

Looking ahead to Heybridge, Chapman said: "I am surprised they are not higher. They will be a decent side. They will be organised and very fit."

Chapman is unsure as to whether forward Piers Wixon will have recovered from a hamstring injury in time for either of these games.

He said: "He has a hamstring strain. I am not sure whether he will be fit."

Meanwhile midfielder James Fraser has left Harlow to join Ryman League premier division side Aveley.

Chapman said: "He did not look a bad player. It was going to be difficult for him in central midfield as we have the likes of Getro Kilapi, Leon Lalite and Tom Bruno."

Canaan strikes gold at English Championships

CANAAN Solomon completed a hat-trick of brilliant victories by winning the prestigious English Cross Country Championships' U-13 boys 3km title.

The 13-year-old Mark Hall School student had won the South of England and Essex titles earlier in the year to book his spot in Saturday's event at Parliament Hill in London.

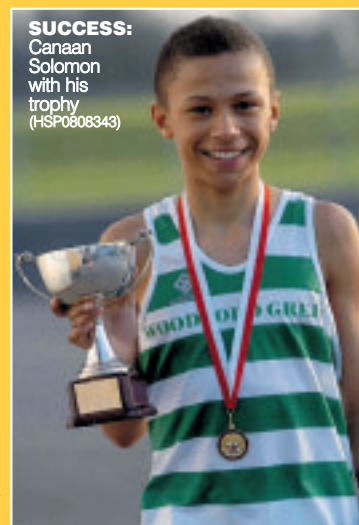

Canaan stayed in second spot behind Northern regional champion Hugo Milner, but with just over 1,200m to go, the Harlow runner made a well timed break.

He held his advantage well in the closing stages to win in 10 minutes and 51 seconds.

Canaan was four seconds ahead of Gateshead's Matthew Lonsdale who snatched the silver medal from Milner (3rd).

John Stow, Canaan's Harlow-based coach, said: "Canaan was brilliant in the way he stuck to his task and struck for home just when we wanted him to do so."

"Canaan always listens to advice we give him and this has helped him achieve so much. He was very modest after his victory and conducted himself extremely well."

Fifteen-year-old Burnt Mill School student Amelia Barrett ran brilliantly to come 17th in the U-15 girls 4km race, from a field of 350. Her time was 14:42.

Stow added: "Amelia is improving all the time and I believe this determined youngster will go on and represent her country in years to come."

Rosie Poole (12), a Stewards School pupil, came 83rd in the U-13 girls 3km race in 13:04 and Jodi Ratcliffe (13), a Mark Hall student, came 152nd in 13:40.

Perry Rowan (15), a pupil at Burnt Mill, was 118th in the U-15 boys 4.5km race in 16:57 and Harlow's Sam Benge (18) was 185th in the junior men's 10km race in 43:23.

Passmores School student William Jansen (12) will represent Essex in the South of England Inter Counties event at Bexhill on March 24.

This was after he achieved an excellent 8th spot in the Year 7 boys 3km race in the Essex Schools competition at Hylands Park last Wednesday.

Rosie Poole and Jodi Ratcliffe were third and 10th respectively in the Year 8 girls 3km race and have also been selected for Essex.

Turkish delight for Osagie

ANDREW Osagie is looking for some Turkish delight as he gears up for next week's IAAF World Indoor Athletics Championships.

The ace runner, of Northbrooks in Harlow, was selected by Great Britain after achieving the qualifying time in the 800m at the Aviva Grand Prix international at Birmingham.

The 25-year-old Harlow Athletic Club member competed in Stockholm, Sweden last Wednesday before the big event in Istanbul from March 9-11.

In Stockholm, Osagie represented Great Britain and was second in a B race.

Osagie competed at the World Indoor Championships in Qatar two years ago, when he made the 800m semi-final.

Coach eyes five victories

RAMS coach Lee Harron has called on his Harlow team to win all their remaining five London division three north east games.

Harlow were relegated from London division two north east at the end of last season and are aiming to get back up at the first attempt.

Two sides are set to go up and Harlow are well placed in second.

However, there is no room for complacency.

There is little to choose between the sides - leaders Norwich still have a game in hand over Harlow, Stowmarket (third) and Wanstead (fourth).

Harlow take on mid-table Sudbury at home this Saturday.

Harron said: "We need to show the commitment in training and the games. I want the guys to buy into this challenge."

"We cannot afford to slip up in any game. We need to win all the five games that are left."

Influential scrum-half Rhys Powell is set to return after he missed last Saturday's 21-17 loss against Holt.

However, full-back Rob Mackie is still away on holiday and centre Luke Bowering (back injury) is struggling to be fit.

Hooker Martin Mallia will still be suspended. He was sent off after a fracas with a Wymondham player in the league match 12 days ago.

The club did not supply this information from the submitted report published in the Star last week.
